

Dawn French Chartered FCIPD Managing Director

Dawn's career began with a successful 10 year stint in operations in the service sector with global brands, such as Pizza Hut and TGI Fridays, where she gained extensive commercial and business insight and expertise. The expansion plans of such companies gave her a terrific grounding in recruitment, training and people development, which prompted a planned career shift into Human Resources.

Dawn joined Tesco and held senior positions in Human Resources, in roles which were both highly operational and focused on people Learning and Development; she was an intrinsic part in the development of the Tesco training strategy created for Tesco Express at its conception. She was also involved in numerous HR projects impacting on both the UK and Eastern Europe. She then went on to hold HR Director Roles across UK and Europe.

As well as creating and writing extensive workshops, training programmes and leadership courses throughout her career she has extensive experience of facilitation and delivery. Her strong operational background in the retail and service sectors has given Dawn a deep insight into the challenges of people management; the implementation of change; and the fostering of a distinct corporate culture. As a consequence Dawn is very focused on the organisational objectives of training and is a highly practical programme designer and manager.
